This year, the Michigan City Chamber of Commerce announced a call for original artwork for the cover of its 2018 Centennial Member Directory.

The Chamber Directory is a popular resource for local residents, businesses, and visitors, and a great opportunity for an artist's work to be seen and appreciated by others.

Mary Jo Orłowski, Chamber President said that eight submissions were received. A panel of former Board chairpersons served as judges in choosing the winning entry.

"We are thrilled to unveil the winning art work, created by Hunter Combs, a digital design student at Michigan City High School," Orłowski said. "Hunter captured the city's vibrant business community with his eclectic, modern view of Michigan City. It reflects the Chamber's next 100 years of advocating for business."
